Proportionate budget worksheet.

Month, Year

If you want to tackle goals together but maintain some autonomy over what's left after the bills are paid, this approach will allow you to divide monthly expenses based on your respective incomes and ensure even distribution and flexibility when you need it.

Incomes

List out each of your monthly incomes here, including any paychecks (post-tax), interest earned and additional income (investments, real estate, inheritances, etc.). Based on this information, the template will automatically calculate your portion of the budget.

Expenses

Add all shared monthly expenses here to automatically calculate the portion you and your partner will be responsible for, based on your respective incomes.

| EXPENSE | AMOUNT |
| :---: | :---: |
| Rent |  |
| Utilities |  |
| Transportation |  |
| Entertainment |  |
| Loans |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

Monthly totals

Once you've accounted for all income and shared expenses, check here to see what's leftover to save, invest or put towards a treat for you and your sweetheart.

| SOURCE | YOURS | THEIRS |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Total income | $$ 0.00$ | $$ 0.00$ |
| Total expenses | $$ 0.00$ | $$ 0.00$ |
| BALANCE | $\mathbf{$ 0 . 0 0}$ | $\mathbf{$ 0 . 0 0}$ |

Notes

